

Press release

“Rebirth” is Stephanie Cime’s first solo show, a stunning collection of abstract paintings that invite viewers to take a journey of self-discovery and reflection. Through a range of colors, textures, and mixed media, Cime’s work explores the depths of human emotion and experience, from the heights of joy to the depths of sorrow.

Each piece in “Rebirth” is an intuitive and meditative exploration of the artist’s inner world, a celebration of total freedom and the transformative power of embracing your true self. Through her use of mixed media and her arsenal of expression, Cime creates pieces that invite viewers to engage with them on a subconscious level, connecting with the human experience beyond cultural, intellectual, and philosophical boundaries.

“Rebirth” is a powerful example of the transformative power of following your heart and embracing your true passion. Cime’s own journey as an artist, leaving her previous profession to pursue her passion, serves as an inspiration to others to find the courage to pursue their own paths in life.

Through her work, Cime hopes to inspire viewers to reconnect with their own inner worlds and find the courage to live the life they truly want. “Rebirth” is a celebration of the power of abstract painting to connect with the human experience in a deep and emotional way, inviting viewers to explore their own emotions and experiences through the power of art.
