

Surlevent

Stephanie Cime

“Surlevent, the wind that carries feathers and waves, Guides us, like a force of nature, through life’s twists and turns. Stephanie Cime’s abstract works capture this essence, A celebration of impermanence and the beauty of letting go.

The Surlevent collection is a testament to the power of nature and the human spirit.

Through immersive shapes and texture-driven brushstrokes, Cime invites us to surrender to the flow of life.

Surlevent is a journey into the unknown, A reminder that there is beauty in imperfection, And that true happiness lies in embracing our true selves.

Stephanie Cime’s works are a mirror to our own souls, A reflection of the transience that dominates our existence.”

Press Release:

Stephanie Cime, the artist known for her abstract works that celebrate impermanence and the beauty of letting go, is proud to announce her solo show, Surlevent. This collection is a journey into the unknown, a celebration of the power of nature and the human spirit.

Surlevent is a French word that means “on the wind”. It is a fitting title for this collection, which captures the essence of nature’s force and the beauty of surrendering to the flow of life. Cime’s works are characterized by immersive shapes and texture-driven brushstrokes, each one imperfect and unique.

As a former lawyer turned artist, Cime’s journey to embracing her true calling has been an inspiration to many. Her works are a mirror to our own souls, a reflection of the transience that dominates our existence. Surlevent is a celebration of impermanence and the beauty of letting go, a reminder that true happiness lies in embracing our true selves.

Her abstract works are characterized by layers upon layers of immersive shapes, each one imperfect and texture-driven. Cime’s paintings are a testament to her philosophy, which emphasizes the importance of impermanence and asymmetry in a world that is constantly changing.

About Stephanie Cime: Stephanie Cime is an artist based in STALHILLE BELGIUM. Through her artwork, she explores themes of authenticity, vulnerability, transition, connection, shame, self-acceptance, and imperfection. Stephanie draws inspiration from the philosophy of celebrating impermanence, natural beauty, and imperfection.

For more information about “Surlevent” or to request an interview with Stephanie Cime, please contact us at press@cime.be.

press@cime.be

www.cime.be

T: 00 32 497 37 22 78